PARTIES END, BUT MEMORIES LAST FOREVER.

The Seattle Design Center celebrated 50 years of design excellence in the Pacific Northwest with a night full of surprise performances, cirque experiences, cocktails galore, and premium cuisine.

The design center first opened its doors in 1973, thus setting Seattle's trajectory to become the nucleus of the design community in the PNW. 5 decades later, the SDC continues to inspire interior designers as they build the spaces around us.

DARK AND DISTRESSED

“The Tribeca combines an understated sensibility with a relaxed mood and heritage craftsmanship. The look is built on simplicity, emphasizing the rich character and warmth of curated materials. Traditional forms are pared down to clean lines and transformed by rustic finishes. Visible natural features of the wood add authenticity, blend a casual modern aesthetic with timeless appeal of New York City’s iconic Tribeca neighborhood.” - LEFLAR

MOODY NEUTRALS

(LEFT) The new Franklin, Walker, Vestry, and Moore Collections mingle between classic and contemporary with asymmetrical, geometric prints, traditional ribbed textures, and nuanced, tonal palettes. Available through the J. Garner showroom.

(BOTTOM LEFT) Craftex Microcement products, applied on all floors, and walls of this bathroom, to create a seamless, warm tone throughout the entire space, giving you peace and comfort every time you enter.

(BOTTOM RIGHT) The Olympic Rug Collection is crafted to look and feel like an antique Persian rug that's been handed down for generations. Available at Andonian Rugs showroom.

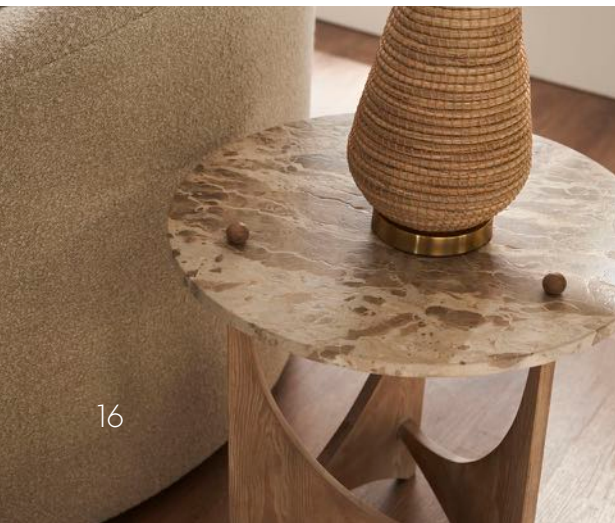

BELLA DURA HOME

Pindler has introduced new additions to its Bella Dura Home Collection. Stylish and at a fantastic price point, this exclusive collection of indoor/outdoor performance fabrics is designed for the rigorous demands of family, pets, and entertaining while providing beauty, texture, and comfort expected for the home, indoors and out.

NEW COLLECTION - KRAVET

Influenced by the laidback luxury of organic textures, farmers market finds, sunrise hikes and neutral palettes, this ensemble of fabric, furniture, carpet and accessories creates a harmonious balance of earthy texture, warm layers and sophisticated colors within the home.

NEW COLLECTION - LEFLAR

Gorgeous banana bark panels are hand laid to create a naturally striking, graphic finish. Its concentric starburst pattern on top and chevron-patterned base evoke a sophisticated and slightly retro vibe.
